NTL has decided But won't tell 'til Thursday

National Training Laboratories has apparently made its decision on whether or not to continue operating its training facilities in Bethel. The word will be given to the town at a public meeting Thursday evening. Contacted by The Citizen Tuesday, NTL Executive Director Lennox Joseph acknowledged that at decision had been made by the organization's board of directors on whether to continue NTL's operations in Bethel. He declined, however, to reveal what that decision was, saying that the NTL/Bethel Liaison Committee had asked that the word be communicated.

Bethel town meeting tonight at Telstar

Bethel voters went to the polls yesterday (Tuesday) to elect town officials, and they will meet this evening for their annual town meeting. However, with a dearth of candidates for town office, a proposed municipal budget increase of less than 2 percent, and a largely non-controversial warrant, interest in this year's local political process appears low.

As of Tuesday afternoon, Town Clerk Merton Brown reported that only a small number of voters had shown up at the fire station to cast their ballots. Town officials were also predicting a light turnout for tonight's town meeting. Results of yesterday's election were not available by press time. Norman Putnam ran unopposed for selectman and Cheryl Eliot for school director. Edleen Winslow, owner of the former Charlie's Place Restaurant, was running as a write-in candidate for the second slot open on the school board. Putnam has also declared himself as a write-in candidate for the three-year term open on the board of assessors. If predictions of a small voter turnout at tonight's town meeting prove accurate, it could spell trouble for a proposed town sign ordinance—the one revised sewer-use ordinance—the one

TELSTAR HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1991 GRADUATES—An gymnasium full to overflowing with family members, teachers, friends and neighbors turned out last Friday evening to send off the Telstar Class of 1991. Telstar graduates urged to treat time as a gift

A overflowing crowd of family members, friends and teachers filled the Telstar gymnasium Friday evening to celebrate the graduation of the class of 1991.

Valedictorian Nate Buckman commended the 65 graduates for the inner strength and support for others they'd shown during times of personal and family crisis. He noted that one member of the class had overcome, with much support from family and classmates, injuries from a skiing accident and that the father of one classmate had died, as had the brother of another.

"The inner strength that this class has," he said, "has guided and propelled the class through many rough times."

Salutatorian Cynthia Hammel said friendship is what made her years in SAD #44 enjoyable—the friendship of students and teachers.

"One group of special people that have made a big difference in our lives is the teachers we've had," she said. "Many of them have taken on the quality of friends."

Third-honors graduate Kristen Powell urged fellow graduates to use their time wisely and to deal with their problems one day at a time.

"Today is a gift of time. Only we can decide what to do with today's allotment of time," she said. "No matter where we go after we leave here tonight, we are leaving the light that nurtured us for thirteen years."

The class of 1991 left high school behind on a musical note. Brandon Moore did his own rendition of a old pop tune when he sang, "Good-night Telstar, well it's time to go. We hate to leave you, but we really must say, good-night Telstar—good-night."

Marchers call for cooperation in fight against child abuse

U.S. Rep. Snowe praises local efforts

U.S. Rep. Olympia Snowe joined over 100 SAD #44 students Saturday, along with their family and friends, in the "Bethel Walk 91—Partners in Prevention." The walk included students from all four district elementary schools and began with a ribbon cutting ceremony on the Bethel common.

Walk-a-thon organizers hoped to raise money for materials to be used in the district's classroom courses that promote personal safety.

The day's goal was to raise $1,000, said Donna Richard, Oxford County Child Abuse & Neglect Prevention Council Coordinator—but the walkers exceeded the goal and raised $1,300.

Richard organized the 1.3 mile walk around the Bethel village.

Snowe said child abuse is a national problem, but that Maine is at the forefront in fighting the tragedy.

"I want to commend Bethel, Oxford County, and the business and civic groups that worked together for this walk-a-thon," she said, "because they symbolize the importance of working together to fight child abuse."

Bethel area businesses donated money for T-shirts, which were given to walk-a-thon participants. Richard said that walk-a-thon's theme, "Partners in Prevention," was chosen to stress the importance of cooperation in fighting child abuse.

During 1990 in Oxford County there were over 600 cases of child abuse reported to the Department of Human Services, she said, but because of case overloads and staff shortages, DHS was able to respond to only one quarter of the cases reported—those labelled "the severest cases."

Woodstove caused Newry fire

Home had been town post office

A faulty woodstove has been blamed for a fire last Tuesday afternoon that destroyed the 170-year-old Newry home of Norman and Eleanor Davis.

The state fire marshal's office ruled that the stove ignited a fire in a garage workshop attached to the house. By the time Newry firefighters arrived on the scene the garage was fully aflame. The fire spread quickly and engulfed the 14-room farmhouse.

It took firefighters from Newry, Bethel, Rumford and Andover four hours to control the blaze.

Rebels bunt, run their way to western Maine title game

Softballers take on Sacopee Valley today for shot at state Class C crown

The Telstar High School softball team jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning of their Western Maine Class C playoff game against Hall-Dale High School—and the girls never looked back.

The Rebels ended up beating Hall-Dale 8-2 and will now face number-three-seeded Sacopee Valley (14-2) in South Hiram today, (Wednesday).

The Rebels bunted and executed their way to the win.

Coach Jim Lunney said, "We handled the bunt and the ground balls defensively—and they didn't. Both pitchers threw well, but we executed well and got the plays done."

He said the bunt-and-run strategy works well for the Rebels, because it

Thank You

We would like to thank all of our friends, neighbors and relatives who came to our aid after our home burned last week.

Your gifts of food, money, clothing and offers of shelter were much appreciated. Special thanks to the Newry Fire Department, The Newry Ladies Fire Department Auxiliary, Sunday River Ski Resort, Oxford County Sheriff's Office, Carl at Perham's Mineral Store and the townspeople in Newry.

Letters to the editor

BETHEL'S BEAUTY IS THE TREE, BUSINESSES THE ORNAMENTS

To the Editor:

Two recent stories, NTL's reevaluation of its Bethel location and one citizen's criticism of the sign code ordinance, would seem to have little to do with each other.

To the contrary. The sign code governs the visual effect the town makes on its residents and its visitors. The traditional shapes and layouts, buildings and trees of the town are what gives Bethel its particular personality, its native beauty. That beauty in turn is what attracts and keeps visitors coming back, especially NTL participants and their like who wish to stay a week or two, and to return another year.

The marketability of Bethel to an organization like NTL does not rest primarily in the service available but in the basic beauty of the place. Its beauty is its power. That beauty is the tree, the businesses are the ornaments. Take the tree away, and the ornaments will have nothing to hang on. By themselves they are just visual chaos in a box, giving us a sectioned and splintered sense of the special place we are in. Attractiveness is lost, visitor loyalty wanders.

Bethel's sign code ordinance is necessary for this reason, and it's a decent ordinance. Where an individual must have his right to signage, he does not have the right to exercise visual havoc on his neighbors or the town in general. That is all the ordinance says. But aren't people responsible enough without the ordinance? They try to be responsible, but deep down their interest will be personal taste and personal gain. That interest cannot be assumed to responsibly interpret and act upon the common good, the beauty of Bethel.

Main Street already provides some examples of what personal preference and whim can do to the traditional shapes of older buildings, signs and trees—the most striking symbols of Bethel's inherent power as a town. Do an experiment: drive into Norway from the South Paris side, then from the other end along Route 117. Which approach gives Norway the more attractive and powerful effect?

A final thought: with Main Street torn up an unusual opportunity exists for renewal, inspired by the lovely job the town maintenance crew did on the green. Could some trees be added while the street is being put back together, not a line of trees but just a few, perhaps larger ones? (I know trees may make ploughing tougher, but I've seen Frisco, Colo. do it at 9,000 feet and six feet of snow—and particularly summer business promptly took off.) Perhaps groups or individuals could adopt and sponsor these trees.

These ideas are not just impractical, romantic, whimsy. NTL is big business, and more than likely its directors are wooed by towns around the country, very beautiful towns with well-conceived facilities. Bethel will have to compete aggressively just to keep its present share of the conference market. Maintaining and adding green, and preserving the traditional beauty of older buildings (perhaps with the help of tax incentives) are strategies which are going to cost a lot less ultimately than the loss of NTL's business. Beautification and planning ordinances are not idle or haphazard dreaming. They are hard-nosed economics in an unforgiving world of competition.

Economic progress in Bethel will not come piecemeal, every man for himself, nor simply by talking a good game, advertising or adding business and industry. It will come first from the beauty and shape of the town, and in that sense progress may well be best assured by paying more attention to the whole village and its traditional sense of place.

PEDRO, RAFAEL, GIANNI SAY GOODBYE AND THANK YOU

Dear Bethel Area People:

It's time to say goodbye—which is very sad for us. With this simple letter we, Pedro, Rafael and Gianni, want to thank you all for your warm welcome and hospitality.

It has been a great year here in Bethel. It was fantastic in many aspects: school, host families, church, Rotary Club and many other social groups. Each one of these different groups meant and mean a lot to us: understanding, respect and tolerance toward us and our cultures.

These three main qualities are not easy to find everywhere. But we found them here in Bethel. It was relatively easy for us to get adjusted to this small town because of you people. We appreciate your time and comprehension, and you will remain always in our minds and hearts. You are great and very thoughtful people. We hope you learned from us as well as we learned from you. We will never forget such special people and memories from such a beautiful town as Bethel.

We want to thank especially our wonderful host families, the Remingtons, the Lewises and the Gillies, who gave us the love and support we needed.

Thank you. We love you. Keep in touch.

EBS COULD BE A GREAT PLACE FOR KIDS TO HANG OUT

To the Editor:

Hi, I would like to have Ethel Bisbee School, when it closes to be changed into a place with video games and other things like that. We would have to have some snack machines too. I figure go. I wrote to the town manager also. I'm asking you, please give us a place to hang out. I'll try to help fix up the place like cleaning the floors, etc. I just want it so us kids in Bethel can have a place to hang out. If you have any questions, just write to this address, R.F.D. #1, Box 1272, Bethel, Me., 04217. My age is 12 years old.

Michelle Lee Huston

Note: Town Manager Henley said she has received her letter and thinks the suggestion is an excellent one. She said she has passed the letter along to the school board for consideration.

LEGAL HELP AVAILABLE

An attorney from Pine Tree Legal Assistance, Inc. will be in Rumford at the Rumford Public Library, Rumford Avenue, on Thursday, June 20, from 1-3 p.m. and Friday, June 21 from 2-4 p.m. and in South Paris at the Paris Public Library, 3 Main Street, on Friday, June 21, from 10 a.m. to noon—by appointment only.

FROM THE Bethel Town Office

I would like to begin this week by thanking you all for being so tolerant of the horrors of downtown construction. Although the dust is every bit as bad as promised, you are all trying to make the best of it. When you do reach the limit of your patience, you are still unforgivingly polite, though admittedly grim.

All in all, I have never received such nicely phrased complaints.

If it helps at all, let me assure you that the worst is almost over. Another month and Main Street will be ours again.

Town meeting is this evening and I hope to see a good turnout. Tonight it is your run to wrestle with the issues which consume the time and energy of your elected and appointed representatives. Please come prepared to voice your opinions along with casting your votes. Remember, an informed electorate is the bedrock of democracy. I am sure you will forgive the brevity of this article since you must know that things are hopping at your town office these past couple of weeks.

We are training on the computers so as to be on-line for the beginning of the new fiscal year as well as preparing to close fiscal year 1991.

Rebel softball

forces the other team to handle the ball more. "If we hit long balls into the outfield then all the other team has to do is catch them," he said, "but hitting the ball on the ground forces them to field it, throw it and catch it."

Laying down sacrifice bunts helped the Rebels off to an early advantage over Hall-Dale.

Leadoff batter Kris Delano's hit to right field in the first inning got the Rebels started. Delano advanced to second when Shilo Hutchins was hit by a pitch—setting sophomore pitcher Staci Kangas up with two runners on base. Kangas then laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt down the third base line. Two runs scored and Kangas reached third when the ball was thrown into right field.

Hall-Dale's pitching then shut the inning down, striking out the next three batters. But once back on the mound, Kangas was to prove more than a match.

The Rebels held their 2-0 lead for two more innings and then scored four inurance runs in the fourth. Amy Hannon led off with a walk. Lynn Buckingham's sacrifice bunt moved her to second. After Angie Hebert was hit by a pitch, both runners moved up on a wild pitch.

Jen Percival tried to bunt Hannon home, and Hannon scored off a wild throw to first, which left Percival on first and Buckingham on third.

Delano then laid down a bunt towards the mound and was thrown out, but Percival advanced to second. Hutchins walked to load the bases. Kangas also walked scoring the inning's second run. Clean up hitter Jen Bailey's single to right scored two more runs.

Hall-Dale didn't score until the fifth inning, when they tallied two runs. But Kangas shut the Bulldogs down the rest of the way—her low fast balls crippling the Hall-Dale's hitting.

Telstar added two more runs in the sixth inning. Delano scored after a failed pick-off attempt on third. Three more bunts and two Hall-Dale errors led up to Jen Bailey scoring the final run of the day.

The Rebels travel to South Hiram to play Sacoe Valley today at 4 p.m. The winner of that game will advance to the State Class C championship, scheduled for Saturday June 15, 3 p.m., at the University of Maine at Orono.

CORPSMAN DOWNS RETURNS TO CAMP LEJEUNE

U.S. Navy Corpsman Stephen L. Downs, assigned to a Marine Corp. unit, has returned from the Persian Gulf and Desert Storm operations to Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Downs is the son of Mrs. Robert Graham of Andover. He was honored by being chosen with forty other members of his unit to take part in the Washington D.C. Desert Storm Homecoming Celebration, which took place June 8.

Downs will be coming home July 1 for twenty days of leave. This will be his first time home in two years, his mother said.

The development charge—which is charged to new customers or to current customers who expand their usage—is not new. Such a fee is already written into the town's present sewer ordinance, but is raised slightly from $10 per gallon to $11 per gallon in FY '91 and $12 per gallon the following year in the new ordinance.

But Henley said the objection was not to the increases, rather to the fact that the already sizable fee—which averages $1800 for a new home, and more for some businesses—is charged at all.

Both ordinances have considerable support among town officials and volunteers who have worked to develop them, but if voter turnout is low tonight, the measures could prove vulnerable to their critics.

The proposed municipal budget for the coming year is up only slightly. The selectmen are recommending a figure of $1,138,975, up $18,003 (1.6 percent) from the current year; the budget committee has recommended raising $12,000 less than the selectmen, or a total increase of approximately .5 percent.

The major difference between the two boards involves the purchase of a backhoe. The selectmen recommend the town buy a new one, the budget committee recommends fixing the old one.

Also on the warrant for tonight's meeting is a citizen-initiated petition article asking that $739.20 be raised and appropriated for the Tri-County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The selectmen and budget committee have both rejected the funding request. The citizens' petition puts it back before voters.

Tonight's meeting will be held in the Helen Berry Auditorium at Telstar High School and will begin at 7 p.m.

ACTION CAM BRINGS HOME THE GAME—Donna Lunney taped the Telstar High School softball team defeating Hall-Dale High School in the Western Maine Class C softball playoff game Monday. Public-access channel IV aired the game Tuesday. The Rebels' previous play-off game against Erskine Academy last week was the channel's first running of local programming. Tonight, (Wednesday) beginning at 7 p.m. the SAD #44 Adult Education graduation and reception honoring Dan Hart are scheduled. On Thursday, June 12 at 7 p.m. the channel will feature the Ethel Bisbee School concert and the Telstar softball team's Western Maine championship game against Sacoe Valley.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

A full house heard Pauline Davis describe the history of three Bethel streets (Cross, Bridge and Riverside) at the June monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held Thursday evening.

Mrs. Davis discussed the origins of the area back to Sudbury, Canada days, the fact that the town's first meeting house once overlooked the Androscoggin River, the first school in the West Parish was here as well, and then detailed later changes, carefully documenting her remarks. It was clear that she had thoroughly researched the area using newspapers, maps, deeds, wills, photographs and oral testimony.

For most of its history Mrs. Davis recalled that the area was a mixture of businesses and residences, which is still the case today. One of the most fascinating parts of her slide presentation was the portion dealing with the construction of the overpass in the 1960s.

During the business portion of the meeting, trustee chairman Margaret Joy Tibbetts presided in the absence of the president and vice president. She announced that the next meeting would be on July 4 and feature a presentation, "An Evening with Joshua Chamberlain" at the East Bethel Church, which will be the site of the Society's annual picnic.

The "Artifacts of the Month" were announced as the Hanover Dowel Sign, gift of A.A. Thurston Company and the L.E. Davis Lumber Company sign, the gift of Daniel Davis. Life membership certificates were presented to Pauline and Robert Davis.

Chairman Tibbetts announced that the Society's Garden and Grounds Committee had unanimously recommended that the large oak be taken down this year for reasons of safety and that the board of trustees had accepted that recommendation. The tree would be removed on June 7 and a new one planted to replace it.

Refreshments featuring rhubarb were announced by Persis Post and a social hour followed the program.

to the town directly, rather than through the press. The committee is made up of local residents active in the organization.

"We thought the word should be given eyeball to eyeball," said committee member Joan Wise.

As reported in The Citizen late last month, NTL had been reevaluating its mission and markets—in part in response to declining market share, escalating costs at its primary training site, in Bethel, and complaints from clients about the facilities available here.

More than 1,000 NTL clients took part in Bethel workshops last year, primarily during the summer.

The clients' spending on lodging, dining and souvenirs provided a relatively stable, recession resistant source of income for a number of Bethel area businesses.

Robin Zinchuck, executive director of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, said that when word of a possible NTL pullout was made public two weeks ago, "business people got real panicky."

As part of its reassessment process, NTL had earlier sent letters to all its members asking for their opinions on the Bethel site. Joseph said the responses ranged from "Bethel is our home and we can't leave," to "If we stay in Bethel, NTL is finished."

Many objected to the difficulty in reaching Bethel from a major airport, he said, while others said the site was inconvenient for clients from NTL-targeted markets on the West Coast.

Joseph said that members who favored keeping NTL in Bethel tended to base their responses on emotional factors.

NTL has recently adopted a "new vision," Joseph said—one which reemphasizes the organization's commitment both to large scale social change and to being more businesslike.

For example, he said, if an organization such as NTL was able to bring about a large scale social change in the soviet bureaucracy, it would probably be "worth many billions," to the countries of Eastern Europe.

Thursday evening's meeting is being jointly sponsored by the chamber and the Bethel/NTL Liaison Committee. It is being held in the Telstar lecture hall, will begin at 7 p.m., and is open to the public.

Agnes Gray School

By MARTA CLEMENTS

End of the year activities are in progress. The entire district staff had the opportunity to attend a supper at Goldstreet to honor long-term employees and retiring teachers.

The event was held at Goldstreet and all schools were well represented for an evening of festivities.

This past Sunday morning found Mr. Koch, Mr. Burke and Mr. Loper constructing the framework for flower beds for both our schools. This is part of our schoolground improvement plan. The West Paris Garden Club will assist with planting seedlings provided by Lee Farrar. Thanks to all.

Our school is looking forward to a new program offered by Jeff Cook and his high school biology classes. They have prepared units and are offering to come into elementary classrooms to share with us. Projects include hydroponics, or growing plants in water, observation of a dissected fetal pig, conservation and more. The sixth grade is the first to participate in this project.

The sixth-graders are also looking forward to Step-Up Day. They will spend the morning at the junior high, meet next year's teachers, go through an abbreviated schedule of classes and have a tour of the building.

My fifth-graders are working on their individual social studies projects to learn more about a person from our history. For spelling this week they are studying "Homework, Oh Homework," by Jack Prelutsky. The second line is, "I hate you. You stink." And this time of year particularly, that's about the way we feel. We're looking forward to meeting and roller-skating with our pen pals on Friday.

The fourth-graders and their parents enjoyed their trip to Augusta where they toured the Blaine House, the State House and their state reports. Mr. Litchfield is reading "The Island of the Blue Dolphins" to the class.

The third-graders are continuing with their CAP unit on making good decisions. They are working on problem solving in math. They are continuing with their theme of "Seed." They are creating or inventing an imaginary plant. They have observed real plants and are detailing specific characteristics for their imaginary plant. Sounds like fun.

Jacob Mallory is the special helper of the week in grade two. Jacob and his classmates are enjoying the help of Nina McLaughlin, who is home from the University of Southern Maine. Nina is helping the class to publish their own books by working with them to edit. Mrs. Perham is typing up the finished stories, and the children are adding illustrations to their stories.

First-graders are working on an ocean mural, making large fish and other examples of sea life. They have read Eric Carle's book, "The Tiny Seed," which traces a seed through its life cycle. Thanks to seeds from A.W. Walker's of South Paris, begonias are growing at the Legion Memorial School. Also special thanks are sent to Starr Mowatt from the junior high who came and planted a tree on the playground. The first-graders are also studying poetry from Bill Martin's "Sounds of Home." Poems read recently include, "Jump, Jump" and "Happy Birthday, Henry."

The kindergarten classes are continuing to work on appropriate school behavior and they are working to earn their last tiger tail for their "Tiger Tail." There are 20 Super Tigers so far. In math they are studying and counting by twos. They are counting backward from 10. In language arts they are working on blending activities with the letter sounds. They are working with rhyming words and are thinking up adjectives to describe the flower pictures they are creating in art class.

Both the kindergarten and first grade are looking forward to their field day on June 14. They hope to go to the West Paris ballfield for their activities.

News from

Woodstock School

A message from the principal
Certainly this year at Woodstock School has presented many wonderful experiences. I have enjoyed the time we have shared. It is my greatest hope that we can reflect on the many positive experiences the year has brought.

The sports banquet was a wonderful experience. It is always nice to see the children and parents participate in an activity together. Molly Ware is a most talented young lady. Her message is one we all need to learn from. Many thanks go to Mrs. Greeke who organized the banquet. She did a fine job and deserves our highest compliments.

The field trip to Granby was fun. Certainly the grade-six students enjoyed their experience. I am sure the grade-five trip to Boston will be equally enjoyable. Congratulations and good luck to both classes as they go to the special evening ceremonies, grade five at 7 on June 11 and grade six at 7 on June 12.

Our best wishes go to Mrs. Greeke who has accepted a new position at Crescent Park School. She will teach grade two. We will miss her dedication to the Woodstock School, and her wonderful smile.

Thank you, Mrs. Greeke. Congratulations go to Mrs. Ellsworth who has been selected to participate in the Reading Recovery Program. She was selected to spend a year at Ohio State for this training. We are looking forward to her return to Woodstock in a year's time. We hope she will enjoy her year.

Our best wishes go to Mrs. Robinson, who will also be leaving our staff. We give you our hope that your future will be bright and happy.

We welcome Mrs. Jean Gardner and Mrs. Kathy Barry to our staff for next year. I am sure they will be wonderful additions.

To all of the Woodstock children, staff and parents, I wish a fun and enjoyable summer. Please get plenty of rest, I am sure the fall will return sooner than we could possibly imagine.

Enjoy the vacation.

Anyone wishing more information is asked to call 624-2780.

A week in the life of HILLARY HARRISON

Hello, All, and how is it going with all of you? I'm great. Last weekend the Rotary Club had a picnic for the Rotarians and their families. My mom is a Rotarian, so we went. I had my doubts about it, but once I got there I had a great time. Amanda Sysko and I went kayaking and it was the first time for me. Of course we flipped and Eric Wight was nice enough to tow us back.

Another first for me was knee boarding behind a speedboat. The first time

I almost got up on my knees and fell off. The second time I never got up. I just held on tight and laughed my heart out. It felt sort of like I was a fish. I'd like to thank Steve Wight for teaching me and Jim Sysko and Rick Whitney for helping and driving the boat.

So school is out tomorrow and summer is very, very near. I simply can't wait.

The Greenwood Fire Department will hold a training session Wednesday, June 19, at 8:30 p.m. at the station.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary has changed its meetings back to Mondays. The next meeting will be Monday, June 24, at 6:30 p.m. at the station.

Jeannette Knight underwent a cataract operation performed by Dr. T'choo at St. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston on June 4.

Lorraine and John Mills stayed with Elvira Littlehale, Tuesday evening, June 4, so Donna and Ted could go to the Alzheimer's support group in Oxford. After spending nearly two hours trying to get her to bed on time, when Donna asked her why she didn't go to bed she retorted, "The lady wouldn't let me." She may have trouble with some things but in other things she's sharp as a tack. Anyway it gave Donna and I a good laugh, privately of course. It's things like that that make good memories.

Charles and Jeannette Knight had a coincidence with their daughter Marianne and family to celebrate the birthdays of their great-grandson Christopher Henderson who was five on May 29 and Marianne's husband whose birthday is on May 29.

Lorraine Mills and Gerry Shimamura visited Gerry's mother, Thelma Merrill, at Ledgeview one day last week and also one day we visited Dawn Shimamura and new baby son, Seth, at Stephen's Memorial Hospital. By the time this paper comes out he will be one day short of being two weeks old. Mercy, time flies! Gerry spent this past weekend at the Church of the Nazarene District Assembly at the church in South Portland. When I was in the Nazarene Church I enjoyed going to some of those. It was quite an experience especially the ordination of the new pastors.

Charles and Jeannette Knight went to Franklin, N.H. over the weekend to visit his nephew and see his sister who is in poor health. She went for tests in Lewiston on June 7.

Last Saturday John Mills joined other men of Praise Assembly of God in cutting wood off the church property in Rumford Center. He reports it has been awhile since he's done much woods work and doesn't figure he'd like to do much of it at his age. I visited Denise Rainville and then ran some errands in Rumford finishing up the afternoon by helping Sandy Nash clean the church.

Ricky Roy is spending some time with his parents, on leave from West Germany. Welcome back Ricky and the same to Jim Cobb. It seems good to see him home with his family once again.

Charles and Jeannette Knight visited Fannie Baker, her aunt, in Farmington, N.H. She is now taking cobalt treatments five days a week on her leg. After 27 treatments of cobalt she will have further surgery. She will be 81 on June 17. Jeannette says she's the only aunt still living and doesn't know what it's called but she is her step-grandmother's daughter by her own grandfather. Beats me, I don't know either but I guess aunt is a good respectful title for her and does the trick as well as any.

John and I were among many others attending the Memorial Service for Charlie Mason the past week. That certainly came as a shock even though he has been ill health for years. Guess we figured he was invincible he had beaten the odds so many times. Anyhow our sincerest sympathy goes to his family. He will be sadly missed not only by his family but by his many friends and his companions in the American Legion.

Cindy Lord and Joe Gross had to have their water pipes dug up last week. That is quite a job even with a bulldozer. They did a good job leveling off the lot once more. I guess the Johnsons have nearly finished the addition they made to their house. They took off the old trailer part and built rooms there instead. It's been a lot of work for them but it looks nice.

Congratulations to all the graduates this year. It seems when you first start high school it will never be over and then when, like I am, suddenly you are looking at your 40th reunion.

West Bethel

By CONSTANCE BROADBENT

Dear Audrey and Wyman;
We had a wonderful time with you and we thank you very much. You can't imagine how thrilled we were to see the rhododendron regalia at Heritage Plantation!... a wonder that we've been waiting to behold for such a long time. It was good of you to remind us of the timing and to welcome us into your home once again.
As we wended our way north we stopped to check the progress of the newly opened Pizza Man. There we found Richard and Douglas in their red, black and white splatters tossing the dough in hopes of amassing the "dough." Our intention was to share a quick few minutes of Doug's 30th birthday and be on our way. But as Necessity will have her way, we found ourselves on upturned buckets (the start-up budget did not include chairs for visiting parents, we noted), folding boxes and t-shirts in anticipation of megasales.

While we were away, things unfolded in our green green hills. We returned to a show of glorious deep purple iris (gifts of Ina that seem to like their places of distinction in the many beds). There are pink lupine where we expected only purple, white columbine where we thought we'd see violet. And then there was the grass. For a lawn that looked very tired just a few weeks ago, the little shoots just burst upward by the millions. And guess who got to trim them?

Yes, for the first time in 34 years of marriage and lawns, little C.B. herself had the dubious distinction of pushing the non-self-propelled mower... which, by the way, was a breeze, compared to the one that I operated in my youth. That one was all the more archaic, as I provided both the horsepower and the propulsion... And since His Honor was so busy with his duties as caretaker and sometime earthmover, I found myself volunteering for the job. How have I escaped the pleasure all this time, you ask?... The answer is simple: Marry a man who loves to operate machinery and then provide backup insurance by bearing sons. As the children grew in stature and strength, and I emerged as the liberated woman-in-residence, I very conveniently overlooked that weekly chore in favor of other unisex endeavors. Ignominious, but clever, don't you think?

While on the subject of beautification, let me tell you what to expect the next time you approach our village. The cemetery in all its splendor (thanks to the efforts of the above-mentioned caretaker) is now flanked by a handsome new building and a newly handsome old mill. The new building houses the Takaradi shop of Jeff and Pattie Parsons, as well as the Maine Information Center (manned by Jeff, as we understand it). The grounds are shaping up as work progresses. On the west side of said cemetery is the Kendall Dowel Mill. The new owners of the revived establishment have begun a landscape project that boasts a new lawn, new plantings, and a new fence. We congratulate the proprietors for the aesthetic improvements and wish them well.

Congratulations are also in order for eight Telstar graduates who live in our neck of the woods. Rebecca Hanscom will report to the University of Maine, Farmington to major in Elementary Education in the fall. Gary Goodrich is off into the wild blue yonder as he trains as an Air Traffic Controller for the U.S. Air Force. Rafael Gisin will return to his native Switzerland to major in German and English. Bruce Korhonen will move from Mason to Southern Maine Technical College to study Law Enforcement with fellow graduate, Tim Chapman. Belinda Coriveau will tackle the books at New Hampshire Technical College, while Lisa Thurston ponders her choices. And we'll be searching for a new grange pianist as Angela Applin pursues her study of Physical Therapy at the University of New England. If we could speak French, we'd shout, "Bon Chance" to all.

In the spirit of welcome, we say "hello again" to Bud and Shirley Clough, recently returned from Florida, and to the ladyslippers that reappeared from wherever they go for the winter. We the "grange gourmands" will be serving up dishes of welcome to the Senior Citizens who plan to do lunch in West Bethel (today), while on the Flat Road we continue to welcome new friends, new flowers and new birds.

Shortly after leaving our Cape Cod cardinals and Carolina wrens, we noticed the presence of thrashers as well as thrushes, great crested flycatchers whistling from the treetops, and towhees calling from their arboreal hideouts. Then just the other day we spied a new comer, and have yet to identify him/her. Pecking boldly at the wildbird-mix was a slim, robin-sized brownish fellow with a boldly black striped crown. There was white on the face, white stripes on the wings, yellow on the chest, above a stripey underbelly. His head was something like that of the Smith's Longspur, but he was a bigger bird. He looked something like the sketch of Mrs. Bobolink in the Peterson guide, but had bolder markings. "Woe is me. The identity remains a mystery and naturally, the elusive fellow hasn't made another appearance since the first sighting... perhaps Celia Gorman will read this and call with the solution to the quandary... (And by the way, Celia, I spotted several meadowlarks, they conformed to the descriptions in my books, I hovering around the chicken do-do on Korhonen's field. Apparently not all denizens of the dale are repelled by the odiferous dressing.)

Life continues at a happy clip. We helped Reggie and Linda Westleigh celebrate 24 years of connubiality by dining at Maurice's. The farmers are performing their magic on their fields. The "Friends of the Dehilla" continue to come to the rescue of those who suffered winterkill (Dewey Thayer has once again provided me with tubers for my empty spaces). The pools are uncovered and warming; the veggies are planted and occasionally covered for warming (still some frosty nights to come)... And surrounding us all with inviolent green are the mountains that set us apart.

We had a joyful time of it these past few weekends, traveling and visiting with friends and family, but you can see that we're happy to be back on the green green grass of home. Thanks again to both of you for the hospitality, the tours, the recipes, and the reminiscences.

Oops. I can hear the "green green grass" growing... I'm off to find the Sears catalog, there must be a lawnmower that starts itself, propels itself, does the lawn and then returns to the garage, wouldn't you think? Take care and come to the hills this summer.

Love, C.B.

This should have been in last week's news. Lorraine Olson Bubier was at the cemetery on clean up day. A lot of us talked with her. I know for me, it had been many years since I had seen Lorraine. It was a pleasure.

Brian Bernier graduated from Telstar High School on June 7. Michael Plawick has returned from working in the south at a millwright job. He has no idea how long he will be home.

Recent visitors at the Bartlett homestead were Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Hutchinson and Walter Thurlow of South Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bartlett of Hopkinton, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Henault of Mendon, Mass., and Bartlett Swan of Winthrop. Myra Foster is doing fine. She has started taking her daily walk when the weather permits.

Rudi Honkala has been helping the Finnish Society refurbish their new Finnish Heritage Center in West Paris. The American Legion had given their Hall to the Society.

Polly Smith has had two cataract operations with Dr. Wolfe and is now able to see much better. She hopes she will be done with all by June 7.

Emma Ordway of Sebago visited Charlie and Polly Smith this past week.

Alder River Grange #145 will hold a meeting on June 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Hall. We will be drafting our charter again in memory of our worthy sister Grace Buck. We will have an open meeting and a program open to the public where we will honor our nation's flag and honor Myra Foster as a 60 year member; Rodney Howe, Mellen Kimball, and hopefully Raymond Buck, as 55 year members. We would like for their friends and families to come and join in honoring them.

How does one describe an afternoon of flowers, blue skies, sweetness and music? Nature was so full of bloom; the mountains and valleys displayed all their charm, where wailing winds and warbling birds sang and danced. Thus it was when Pay and I traveled up the cart road through the farm fields on Sunday. The grass was lush and green; so delicious a shade that I almost wished to be a grass eater. The air was fragrant and clean. And, oh, the bob-o-link. They rose from among the golden dandelions where tumble bees were garnering the yellow pollen and jingled over head. They soared into the air and poured from their throats the melody of their song. Home, now, from Argentina, they sing on the fences, sway on the grasses and float in the sky. Once as we stood to look and listen, one circled our heads then settled on his pillow of gold to swing into the breeze. So short a time they are with us, then return to their southern home, taking with them the added food in migration. Times unnumbered they circled, they sang, they sailed, they chided and complained at our intrusion. When the little brown Mrs. joined them they followed her from our view.

Some lilacs were still in bloom but many had gone by. One group stood near where the old town road once went and the other group was at the top of the hill; the spot that tops the view, my favorite in the valley. These lilacs are trees now. Many are two or three inches in diameter and are twisted and gnarled. Often a catbird nests in this 35 paces of growth, but I saw none today.

The breeze was wafting the warm waves of air carrying lilac scent over the farm land.

The clouds seemed like little explosions in that bowl of endless blue. Holly, the dog, was enjoying the walk with us. She came and went through the tall grass. We kept to the cart road.

A truck passed us going to view the scenery. They were more rapid than we, so they came and went before we reached the top.

We returned by the same route through the gold and the music and wondered if even once the riders heard the music.

Some would say it had been a lazy afternoon. Perhaps. But toil has a perpetual season, while days like this come only now and then.

The Holt's had many callers over the weekend: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Durgin and two boys, Mr. and Mrs. Fran Piccirillo and daughter, Milton Inman, and granddaughter, David and Mary Holt, Ann Holt, Bradley Paine, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney McAllister, Nita and Katherine Hakala.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman were at "Maplewood" on Sunday, also their four granddaughters.

Eva Felton is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Zilpha DiRenzo is at her home here for the summer.

This is a bad year for woodticks. If anyone walks in the bushes or grass they usually pick up a few. At this time I have had five attached to me—but not at the same time.

DeDe Chase recently had eye surgery and is recuperating at home. Arlene Farr and Newton Lamb are patients at Stephens Memorial Hospital, but expect to be discharged soon. My mother, Elsie Pirainen, is also a patient there.

Ann Proctor and Ivan Jr. were in Stratton during the weekend.

Vicky Sanborn and Brant of North Conway, N.H. spent Sunday with her parents, Vernon and Miriam Inman.

A reminder of the public ham supper to be held on Friday, June 14, at 5:30 p.m. This will be held at Goodwill Hall and sponsored by the Universalist Church. The winning ticket for the crocheted bedspread will be drawn that evening.

The West Paris Historical Society will be meeting on Monday, June 17, with a 6 p.m. potluck supper with Sayward and Cynthia Lamb in charge. After the business meeting, Milton Inman will show West Paris slides. Anyone interested is welcome to come.

A beautiful day to start out the week for us all. A few white fluffy clouds in the sky but nothing that says rain at this moment. We have had some wonderful weather lately and guess we better enjoy it while we can.

It has been a busy week and this week looks just as busy as there is Grange as well as Pomona Grange to attend and a green sash night so we won't want for something to do. What we will want is time to enjoy the time of year that it is, and we won't find it

Diabetes and Blood Glucose Monitoring

Diabetes is a condition in which the amount of glucose (sugar) in the bloodstream is not controlled. We now have newer and better formulated insulins, oral medicines for diabetes, and self-monitoring of blood sugar using blood-glucose meters. Diabetes is now able to maintain better control of their diabetes. According to a recent article in the medical journal, Patient Care, there are advantages of using monitoring devices:

1. Helps the diabetic's physician follow the condition more effectively.
2. Aids the diabetic in anticipating the onset of acidosis (a metabolic problem) and low blood sugar; helps minimize complications.
3. Enhances the diabetic's understanding of his or her condition.
4. Allows for ease in adjusting diet, exercise, and insulin doses.
5. Increases flexibility in the diabetic's day-to-day activities.

With the typical monitoring device, a drop of blood received from a finger stick is applied to a test strip. The amount of glucose in the blood is determined visually by observing color changes on the test strip or reading the amount shown by the meter.

Newry

By JIM ANDERSON

This article is being written on the Thursday the week before this paper is published and it's been a busy week. Sunday, June 2, started with me having a cold in my left foot and it ached like it was sprained. I helped with the deacon's duties at church and then mother and I went to Newry's second annual town day at the town hall. This year it was windy enough to drive most of the bugs away and the paper plates as well. Before the softball game, mother and I went home. Once there I soaked my foot and it felt better.

June 3 was the night for the Newry Fire Department meeting over at the Sunday River Fire House. We were all supposed to be there at 7 p.m. to clean up around the fire house and our chief was a bit late. Trying not to rehurt my right foot, I walked around and tried to help as I could. Of course the "kids" in the group were teasing me about being so slow and I had not told anyone about my foot problems. Then Tink starts in and I just laughed at him for being an hour late (something needed fixing at home). I'm proud that the chief feels he can kid me, he's only 345 days younger than me, so let the kids kid.

June 4 will be a day that a lot of people will remember here in town. It started off as any other Tuesday for the bowling group, except that "little" Betsy Clark won both high single game and high triple game instead of Karlene Bachelder. The week off seemed to do her some good. Missing were Bea Lowell and Sylvia Wight. After bowling mother and her two outsiders did the usual till we got Rena Powers home and we got home ourselves. At about 2:40 p.m. or so, my pager from the fire department went off and it was the Oxford County dispatcher calling the Newry Fire Department with a fire call at Norman and Eleanor Davis' house. It was called a chimney fire in the garage. Eleanor is a friend of both mother and I and I, within the speed limits, raced down to the house. My family has been coming up to Newry since 1955 or '56 and Norman's father and mother ran the Newry Post Office for years. It was located where the Davis' had their gem shop, so there were many fond memories attached to this house for me. When I pulled up, (being the first man there from the fire department, I think) the garage and breezeway were on fire and spreading to the main six hours on the scene. Route 26 was closed to traffic for an hour so firetrucks could haul water from Great Brook.

part of the house. There was no fire equipment there and I took off for the Bear River Fire House. Brooks Morton had gotten there just before me, but did not have his key for the station. I jumped out of my car and got the door open and into the jeep. By this time more members came in. I drove the jeep up to the fire and called Alan Fleet to bring the Maxim pump because the tanker and the jeep could not handle the fire. Once Deputy Fleet showed up and the tanker was pumping water onto the house, I was ordered to take the jeep down to a stream and setup for drafting. Not remembering how I called back Alan and told him so and would direct traffic. With the arrival of Deputy Brad and Fireman Brooke the jeep was setup to draft. It must have been Chief Tink who called for aid from Bethel and the other towns. And it was needed. Once the drafting was started, I stayed to run the pump and do what I could without hurting myself again, foot wise. Around 7, the jeep was ordered back to the fire scene and the Maxim took over pumping water out of Great Brook between the A-frame and Sue Moore's house. Once I was back, I could see the extent of the fire damage and it was just as you may have seen in other papers. And the ladies from the auxiliary were there with coffee and sandwiches. Betsy Clark and Caroline Bennett came with food and Caroline brought some clothes for the Davises. I believe that Sue Moore came with blankets for Eleanor as well. I was busy trying to help. Around 7 or 8 p.m., the chief had me go to Rumford Fire Department with four empty air tanks. While waiting for the tanks, one full time fireman from Rumford admired what Newry had done under Tink's leadership over the last four or five years. Again, we have come from a trailer and pump (from 1948) to make trucks and 18 members. This now makes 13 fires and I hope that we don't have another like this one. If we do, we will do our best with the leaders we have and the help we can get from Bethel, Andover and Rumford.

On June 10, the Newry Mother's Club went to the Town and Country for their annual dinner in Gorham, N.H.

Franklin Grange #124 met on Monday, June 3, for Memorial Service and election of officers. Officers elected were all the same except Lucy Ridley is on the executive committee. Sick members were reported on. The program was by chaplain Joyce Hoyt with help from master Richard Felt, lecture by Viva Whitman; music by Dot Canwell; closing thought by Viva Whitman. Next meeting will be June 17 with a 6:30 supper. It is a three-point meeting with Oxford and Dixfield Granges.

There was a good turnout on Sunday at the Baptist Church as the Teistar seniors were honored. Eight seniors were present. Kelly Hayes and Jenny Felt sang a duet and Meri Howe played her flute. The message was given by Rev. Hansen.

Valentina Galisheva from Archangel in the Soviet Union recently visited Nancy Willard at Alpine Shores. Valentina, who is an English professor at Archangel University, assisted in teaching Russian and Introduction to Russian Culture and Civilization at U.S.M. during the spring semester. She also spent a weekend here for cross country skiing in February and said she really enjoyed "the Bryant Pond." Archangel is a sister city for the city of Portland. There are a continuing number of student and adult exchange programs between the two cities taking place. Charles E. Johnson donated some booklets to the historical museum. Do be sure to visit the museum this summer. Mary Billings and Verna Swan did some cleaning at the museum.

The Woodstock Extension will meet on Wednesday, June 19, for program planning at Hathaways Hideaway. Louisa Noyes is leader and meeting starts at 10:30 with a potluck dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Glines, Jonathon and Jolyn, Danbury, N.H., visited her mother Helen Ring, Sunday. They took her out to dinner to celebrate her birthday. On Tuesday Edith Hathaway, Helen Ring, Ruth Dunham, Beatrice Farnum and Alice Wardwell had lunch at Locke Mills to celebrate Helen's birthday.

It's good to hear Caleb Farnum, son of Rose and Steve Farnum, is gaining each day since his heart operation. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hoover and Marybeth of Avon, N.Y., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoyt and other relatives for a few days.

News from Amanda Dunham is that she is gaining.

Friday afternoon found us in Colebrook shopping at Prescott Farms Market. The skies opened and a torrential down pour kept some customers walking around the store and raised several umbrellas. The traffic mainly goes in a circle coming in from Main Street and driving onto a side street to enter Main Street at another spot. Whether from only the rain or whether helped by a possible broken pipe. The result was a flash flooded side street. It soon became a recreation area with folks in bathing suits or shorts running and pushing each other into the over the hubcap water. One pick-up made several trips through in high speed causing the water to make a wide spray high over the vehicle and splashing bystanders. As we left one full grown fellow was grapping another succeeded in giving pants and partially succeeded in giving a dunking. The hard driving rain and poor visibility made for extra cautious driving because of moose, but the only one we saw was in sight of our driveway.

The selectmen met Tuesday at the town office with Richard Lecomte, Connie Gagnon and Pat Lewit. The major topic was discussion of developments of the landfill problem. Mr. Lecomte reported what he has been able to do by way of options and costs and what he plans to do before holding a hearing and a special town meeting to inform and get the opinion and vote of the taxpayers.

Jeanne Swasey, mail Carrier, delivered several boxes of day old chicks on her route Monday. Her last boxful is housed in my kitchen but will soon be growing in the garage. Without electricity I reverted to the older method of heating their box with a kerosene lantern, heated flat irons and near an open doored oven. It works well for the chicks and their odor can be kept at a minimum with frequent litter changes, but I'd forgotten the obnoxious odor of a kerosene light, especially in a very warm room. How did we tolerate several of these in the house constantly? Even until they are unpleasant to have nearby.

Ray and Vi Bernier returned home from Dublin, N.H. where he had temporary employment. They found their garden growing well as there had been plenty of rain.

Laurie French and Bob Brown are in New Gloucester where they have employment as house parents at the "Home for Little Wanderers." Our sympathies go to the Davis family who have lost, by fire, their fine old family homestead in Newry.

Bethel library announces summer children's events

Plans are underway for a busy summer for children at the Bethel Library. Sue Wight of Newry has volunteered to lead elementary aged children in a three-session art series. On June 20, the participants will make kites, on July 15 the theme will be Indians, and on Aug. 5 the group will make masks. These art sessions are open to all elementary students. They will be held from 10 to 11 a.m.

On Friday nights in late June and July there will be "videos for children." Most of the videos are based on children's literature and all are aimed at a young audience, ages four to eight. Of course, children of all ages are welcome. June 21: Animated Antics, Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs, Little Tim and the Brave Sea Captain; June 28: Rumpelstiltskin, Alexander and the Car with a Missing Headlight; July 12: The Amazing Bone, Five Chinese Brothers, Rikki Tikki Tavi; July 19: Island of the Skog, The Hound that thought it was a Racoon; July 26: Snow White and the Wild Swans, Rainbow Serpent, The Witch Who was Afraid of Witches.

There will, of course, be a library based "Summer Reading Program," which will begin right after school lets out for the summer. The information and recordkeeping forms will be sent home with all elementary students. There will be extra forms at the library.

An exciting finale is planned for all successful completers, so it is hoped that many children will take part in the program this summer.

CLASSIFIEDS
CALL 824-2444

On June 17, from 10 to 11 a.m. there will be a magic show with Mansfield Packard of Locke Mills. All ages are welcome.

On July 9 from 2-3 p.m. Gail Sysko will lead a sing-along upstairs at the library. The hours will end with an ice cream treat.

There will be two "Summer Library Theater" playacting afternoons for elementary children. Nancy Hansen will lead the group on June 25 and July 30 from 2 to 4 p.m. and on each afternoon there will be a short performance for parents at 4 p.m. Because of the nature of this event, there will be a limit of 20 children at each session. Please sign up at the library if your child would like to attend.

Finally, there will be pre-school art sessions for three- and four-year-olds on July 22 and Aug. 19. These art sessions will be led by Sarah Shepley and enrollment will be limited to 10 children. Sign up sheets will be at the library before each session.

All the summer children's events are free of charge. If you would like to make a small donation at any event, the money will be used to purchase children's videos.

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

Jackson-Silver Unit #68, American Legion Auxiliary, met on June 6. Prior to the regular meeting the members joined the post to hear their speaker, Mr. George Larson of the Bethel Area Health Center. Mr. Larson told the audience of the service now available at the center; they are both acute or ongoing care and preventive care.

They offer emergency care, common laboratory and X-ray services as well as physical therapy. In the area of prevention, there are prenatal screenings and referral, family planning, physical exams, immunizations, gynecological exams, blood pressure and cholesterol screenings and others. Mr. Larson distributed copies of a pamphlet which describes the services offered, also a copy of the annual report and explained a little about community volunteers, what they do, and how the board of trustees members are chosen.

A question-and-answer period followed in which several members of the audience expressed satisfaction in their experiences with the center's services.

In the meeting which followed plans were made for the most immediate activities of the summer. On Sunday, June 9, members will gather at the Legion Hall before 11 a.m. and car pool to Wheeler Mountain, a favorite spot of the late Charles Mason Jr. and the post will participate in services there. A picnic barbecue will follow and auxiliary members are asked to bring salads, etc., to share. In relation to this, the unit voted a donation to the Heart Association in Charlie's memory.

The next meeting is scheduled for June 20 at which time the delegates to the State Convention will report back to the membership. On July 18 there will be a gathering of the auxiliary members at the home of Mary Lyon on North Pond for a picnic, as they did last year. If there is business to be discussed at that time they will do so, but it is meant primarily as a relaxing, social time.

The unit will take part in the 175th anniversary of the Town of Greenwood on July 27 and 28. There will be representation in the parade, with a float and the colors will also be carried. During the day there will be a booth downtown to sell refreshments and the next day at the ballfield. In the evening, the auxiliary will serve a public supper at the Legion Hall as they did last year at the Woodstock School. They are already gathering supplies and would welcome member donations of such things as dried beans and bisquick. The dessert will be strawberry shortcake. Leah Deegan would welcome help in picking berries when they are ripe, also assistance in hulling and preparing them for freezing.

One other activity for the fall will be a card and game party tentatively scheduled for Oct. 13. Proceeds from this will go to Special Olympics. More information will be forthcoming as plans are developed.

Finally, the unit would like to commend the post on their conduct of Memorial Day services. No coverage has appeared in any of the papers of a ceremony so moving that none could have been more so. Rain prevented the usual march to the Honor Roll and cemetery, but the proceedings began with the usual lowering of the flag to half staff. In the hall afterward events seemed to be somewhat spontaneous.

A large crowd had gathered there including area military personnel who had returned from the Desert Storm-Persian Gulf Conflict. During their absence their names had been posted on the Legion bulletin board and each adorned with a yellow ribbon bow. During the program, Unit Poppy Chairman, Vera Cross, introduced this year's Poppy Girl, Little Jenny Lynn Whitman.

Reverend Roland Lord, former World War II POW, read an acoustic using the letters FLAG which was most appropriate and Commander Strickland and Herb Lyon demonstrated how to fold the flag while the meaning of each fold was recited. How many would have had any idea of the meaning of each fold? Delwin Wilson spoke briefly about what it was like to be a returning Vietnam Veteran.

The most touching moments of the program came near the end when Post Commander Brian Strickland introduced the newly arrived service personnel, then asked them to go to the bulletin board and remove their card and ribbons. Quite a few are still there. Then, several Korean and Vietnam veterans were recognized, their names called and each was given a rousing "Welcome Home." This was so touching that there was hardly a dry eye among any of those present.

After this, members of the firing squad and color guard traveled to the Honor Roll and cemetery for the usual observances there.

CROSS COUNTRY QUILTERS

Cross Country Quilters met at the Bethel Library at 10 a.m., Tuesday, June 4, to car pool to the Keniston Cottage at Songo Pond. This was a regular meeting but the last one of the 1990-91 season until fall. There were 13 members present.

President Virginia Keniston presided at the meeting. Questionnaires, passed out at the last meeting, were collected by Carole Crandall to review. The secretary's report was read and accepted.

Carole then proceeded to discuss the items on the questionnaires. The majority approved morning meeting time, twice a month on Tuesday mornings and at the Bethel Library. Suggestions were for longer day projects, Quilt in a Day, home meetings, nursing home work meetings for the benefit of the patients to observe. Some could even meet weekly if a special project was being planned. There was much brainstorming on the different ideas. Lessons could be offered with members willing to teach for the benefit of new quilters and beginners.

The club wishes to extend a "welcome" to more quilters, machine or hand quilters, as we have both now. There is an interest in making more quilts for others; Bethel Library, AIDS quilts, or make a club quilt to raffle and make money for our special needs or to benefit others.

Members are most appreciative to our president, Virginia Keniston, for her leadership and constant determination to keep the club working. They look forward to another exciting and enjoyable year with her and new officers and leaders.

The fall meetings will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 3, at the Bethel Library at 9 a.m.

At 12:30 p.m. members enjoyed their bag lunch with coffee, tea and punch and a rhubarb cake supplied by the hostess.

The meeting adjourned at 1:30 p.m.

News from the Bethel Area

Health Center

The human ear can distinguish between some 40,000 different sounds, some weak enough to cause the ear drum to move as little as 1/10th the diameter of a hydrogen molecule. Perhaps you recall being aware of the persistent buzzing of a mosquito on a quiet summer afternoon, until a jet aircraft flew overhead. Here are two sounds different in both loudness and character that your sense of hearing can help you recognize and label. Let's investigate this by exploring what sound is and how your sense of hearing works.

When a telephone rings, it produces a series of disturbances in the surrounding air. These disturbances, or sound waves, travel out and away from the sound source. Your hearing mechanism transforms and transfers these sound waves as a message to your brain. Your brain can interpret the message.

Before the message can get to your brain, however, it has to pass through three well defined sections of the ear. These sections are named the outer, middle and inner ear.

The outer ear helps to gather sound down into the ear canal to the eardrum. The eardrum is the dividing line between the inner and middle ear. The sound waves strike the eardrum which in turn vibrates. Attached to the eardrum are the three small bones of the middle ear, the hammer, anvil and stapes. The vibrations of sound move from the eardrum to these small bones which transfer the sound waves from the middle ear to the inner ear. Within the inner ear is the fluid of the inner ear where thousands of microscopic hair cells inside the cochlea pick up the motion (sound waves) within the fluid cavity. Stimulation of these hair cells cause electrical impulses to be sent to the brain. Our brain interprets these impulses as sound.

Hearing (for hearing persons) is a key factor in maintaining verbal exchange and perhaps even more importantly, hearing provides the auditory background of life and feelings of participation and security. Your hearing is vital to your well being. If you are experiencing difficulty hearing, a complete hearing evaluation would enable you to understand if you have a hearing problem, what type of problem you have and what can be done about your hearing problem.

At the Bethel Area Health Center, we offer a full range of audiology services including complete hearing evaluation, hearing aid dispensing, repair and service plus many other services to meet your hearing health care needs. The Health Center is offering a Free Hearing Clinic on June 14 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., by appointment only. Audiologist Tim Dunnigan will be performing the tests, offering information and answering questions. Call the Health Center at 824-2193 for an appointment. The next two orientation classes for the BAHCE Exercise Program are scheduled for Wednesday evenings, June 12 and June 26, from 5-6:30. Please call to register. If these times are not possible for you, please call to set up an individual appointment time.

Jackson-Silver Post #68

Members of Locke Mills American Legion Jackson-Silver Post #68 met at their hall on the Gore Road, Thursday, June 6, at 7 p.m.

Preceding the meeting the Auxiliary joined the members of the Post in listening to some remarks on the progress of the Bethel Area Health Center by its director, Mr. George Larson of Bethel. He mentioned that among other valued employees there are now two physicians and a physician's assistant along with a staff of 15, including two nurses and a physical therapist. He also said that more equipment including a new x-ray machine had been added and that the facilities had recently been enlarged by taking over what was once the "Bulldog Diner," and remodeling it.

Many of the Auxiliary and the Post expressed appreciation for the fine service received from the Health Center.

The meeting was called to order by the post commander, Brian Strickland, followed by a roll call of officers, reports from the officers and committees. Several pieces of correspondence were then read and acted upon.

The matter of the Post's participation in the Greenwood 175th birthday parade was discussed at some length. It is planned for July 27, with the following day, July 28, as a rain date. The parade is to form on the road by the Legion Hall. It will begin at 10 a.m. and go the town hall where it will disband. The parade will include, among other things, many floats and Raymond Seames will be the Grand Marshal.

It was voted that the finance officer, Dellwood Wilson, should maintain and keep accounts during the next two summer months when the Post doesn't meet. It was also voted to give the candidate to Boy's State, Troy Wing, a sum of money to help toward expenses.

Under old business further discussion was given to the display of pictures and plaques along with a roster of lifetime members, past and present, names. Comrade Hebert Lyon offered to install a special board rail to display these on in the rear of the hall.

An air of sorrow pervaded throughout the meeting due to the sudden loss of our post adjutant, Comrade Charles Mason Jr. All are left with great sorrow for he had been so much a part of the post for many years. He will always be remembered.

He was an outstanding Legionnaire, an example to follow. Deeply devoted to his country, for which he fought in the Korean Conflict. The Charter of the Post was draped in his honor at this meeting.

It is a pleasure to announce that when the post commander announced that there would have to be a nomination for someone to take his office that his nephew, a former post commander, Andrew Bartlett, volunteered for the office. He was duly elected and immediately installed.

It was voted that the Executive Committee should meet during the summer. The date of July 25, which is the last Thursday was set, and the committee will meet at the Legion Hall.

The next regular meeting will be the first Thursday in September which will be Sept. 5.

A word of thanks and commendation are due to the members of the Judith Grover Tent Daughters of Union Veterans of Bryant Pond for their help in putting flags on graves of veterans in this area. They visited 13 cemeteries altogether, some in remote areas that are little known. Thank you, ladies, very much. It was deeply appreciated.

From the Bethel Area

Chamber of Commerce

Welcome to the newest member of the Chamber, Mahoosuc Mountain Adventures, Polly Mahoney and Kevin Slater, owners. They are located on Route 26 in Newry and organize wilderness courses, canoeing trips, canoe rentals and lots of other great things. Welcome also to Joe and Carmela Croteau, new owners of the former Charlie's Place, now known as Carmela's, on Main Street. They will be carrying on all the great traditions of good food for reasonable prices and also offering new selections and home and business deliveries.

The board of directors will be meeting on Thursday, June 13, at 7:30 a.m. at the Casco Bank for the regular monthly meeting.

We have invited Ed Friel from the Bethel Lion's Club to come discuss some Mollycodd Day issues with us. Also invited are some prospective new board members who will be attending a board orientation as well. We regretfully accept the resignation of Suzanne Uhl Meyers of the Lake House in Waterford, who has resigned due to her husband, Michael, serious hand injury. Get well soon, Michael.

Many thanks to the Bethel Beautification Committee, who have worked to gather donations to "adopt a planter" of flowers to be placed on Main Street. The committee members are Jim Mann, Ann Friedlander, Carol Duplessis and Ginger Keller. Helpers are Tom McGinniss, Fuzzy Thurston and Jean Bass' Stretch group.

Planter donors are Becky Kendall, Barbara D. Brown, Carmela's, Chapman Inn, Dr. David Smith, Pooh Corner Farm, Maine St. Realty, Mountain Mann, Prim's, and Unicorn Flower Shop and Garden Center. There is one planter on Main Street that is waiting for someone to "adopt" it. Please call Carol Duplessis at 837-2791 if you are interested.

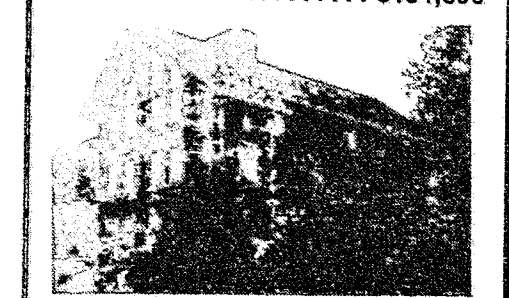

The Chamber and the Bethel NTL Liaison Committee are inviting all interested business people and individuals to attend a meeting on Thursday, July 13, at 7 p.m. at the Telstar Lecture Hall to discuss the future of NTL in Bethel. Dr. Lennox Joseph, president of NTL will be there to answer questions.

as readily as we would wish.

Last Monday was Memorial Day though not on the right day of the year and Peggy spent the day with Bertha Benoit in West Paris. She went to the parade and then to Bertha's new home for the most of the rest of the day. Russell and I stayed home but had callers in the afternoon as Barbara Honkala of East Bethel and Evelyn Tamminen of Yarmouth called on us for a short visit. We were very glad to see them and a good chance to tell them of the Yates reunion to take place July 21 at Bryce and Barbara Yates' home in Bethel on the Sunday River Road. There is plenty of room and that helps when there is a good crowd expected.

I believe it was Tuesday that Clara Whitman and Verna Swan of Bryant Pond called in to get some tomato plants that Russell had left over and gave to them.

Russell has finished planting his garden and things are beginning to grow. He has had flowers come and get them planted and they are coming we hope. It should be pretty around here when the flowers all get to blooming and hopefully they will do well for him. His green thumb still seems to work.

Thursday was certainly a busy day as I had lots to do to get food ready to take to Auburn on Friday evening for the reception after Wynona's Adult Education graduation. Made up several batches of brownies, several batches of bread as well as getting sandwich filling ready to use the next day. Ground up a can of ham and got that ready, 16 small cans of tuna were fixed and about five dozen eggs made into fillings also. In the afternoon, I was fixing vegetables for the reception. Carrots, broccoli, cauliflower, celery as well as radishes were fixed up and put in cold water to be ready for the next day. Peggy did the radishes making flowers of them so they looked pretty. It took me most of the day to get things done and I was bushed.

Friday morning found me fixing cucumbers for the vegetable trays and while I was gone for therapy in the afternoon, Peggy and Russell did the finger rolls, getting them nice and full and looking yummy.

Peggy and I left home with the car loaded about 5:15 and lucky we did as it rained so hard it was hard to see the road part of the way. Got there though and helped get things set up and arranged on the tables put up for the occasion.

She had 30 graduates there this year and I am always glad to see that the young people are realizing that their education is important to them and are going to Adult Education to get that diploma that they need so badly. No decent job is available without the diploma and more are realizing it each day. It was good to see that most of them had some family there to share their moment of triumph. I congratulate all of them for their efforts.

Was too tired Saturday to do more than was necessary but in the evening, Peggy and Russell went to West Paris to the dance. Guess they had a good time.

Sunday, we all went to Auburn. I was dropped off at Wynona's home for Courtney's first communion to take place in the afternoon and Peggy and Russell went to Peggy's daughter's home for the day. Myrna and Whitney live not too far from my daughter's home so it was quite convenient for all.

I had never been in the big church where Courtney's communion was held but had been in the school and other building downstairs. It is a lovely church and there were about 76 or 78 children who received their first certificates and gifts. A lovely presentation for communion for all.

Wynona had invited friends to come to visit after the communion and all had plenty to eat and a chance to visit. Got home and Peggy mowed some of the lawn, I cleaned out my old car some and Russell clipped grass in places so we ended the day with something constructive.

Mary's cousin, Christine Berube from Revere, Mass. has been up visiting relatives in this area and stopped in at Mary's one afternoon for a visit. She was or is visiting her mother, Mrs. Emmons on the Harrison Road. The Lovejoys attended the funeral of Dorothy Durgin this week.

Marcia Baxter was in Newport this weekend to attend the graduation of one of her nieces.

June 29 has been set for a dance at West Paris Grange Hall to benefit Brian Durgin's child who has had the misfortune to break bones, not once but twice and needs help.

Hope everyone has had a good week and has a good one ahead. Take care one and all.

Newry fire

Since the fire, friends, relatives and neighbors have come to the aid of the family. Representatives from Sunday River Skiway, where Mrs. Davis is employed, were at the scene of the fire to offer the couple temporary residence in one of the resort's condominiums. The Davises have since made arrangements to remain at the resort for a least the next three months.

Friends and neighbors of the couple have also donated clothing and food. Mrs. Davis was at home alone at the time of the fire. She left the burning building with the couple's two cats, her

Resolutions of Respect
Once more death has entered our ranks and taken from our midst Sister Grace Buck, a faithful and loved member and worker of our order, and while we mourn the loss of a loyal member we are rejoiced at her freedom from suffering and her entrance into a higher life where sickness and sorrow are no more.

Therefore be it—
RESOLVED: That Alder River Grange extend to the bereaved family and other relatives of our Sister our heartfelt sympathy and we point them to our Heavenly Father for comfort in their hour of trial.

RESOLVED: That these resolutions be placed on our records, that a copy be sent to the family of our Sister, and one sent to The Bethel Oxford County Citizen for publication, and our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Far off thou art, but ever nigh;
I have thee still, and I rejoice;
I prosper, circled with thy voice;
I shall not lose thee tho' I die."

purse and personal jewelry. The only other possessions the blaze spared were several old family albums and slides, a few books, Mr. Davis's personal collection of faceted gemstones, and charred tools and videotapes.

The historic home was built in the early 1800s. According to "Newry Profiles," a history of the town by Paula Wright, Enoch Foster built the main house circa 1820-30. The Foster family sold the house in 1916 to Sumner P. Davis.

Davis responded to an advertisement in The Bethel Citizen, which read: "Well known Foster farm on Bear River, 400 Acres, will carry 30-35 head of stock, orchard 1,000 trees, est. 2,500 worth of wood & timber, large set Sumner moved his family to the home in 1917. After Sumner died, his youngest son Robert T. Davis purchased the house. He continued to run a family farm on the property.

The Newry post office was located in the house from 1941 to 1978. Robert was the town's postmaster. After Robert died in 1980, his son, Norman, moved in. Norman operated a small mineral and gem shop out of the former post office.

In all, Sumner's family and four generations of his descendants had lived in the house.

This was the second major fire within a year for the Davis family. Their camp on Bear River burned to the ground on July 4, when lightning struck a tree on the riverbank and travelled under the camp, setting it
